An annual registration fee of $35 must be paid by each gymnast (maximum of $60 per family).

Note: Pre-team and Team tuition includes non-refundable fees paid for team competition attire, meet entry charges, and coaches' travel costs. Because these costs are spread out among your tuition over the calendar year, any gymnast joining team mid-season will be required to pay additional fees to cover the remaining cost of competition attire and meet entry costs. See attached tuition schedule to determine your monthly payment amount. Because the monthly payment is calculated based on meeting our costs, most of which are fixed costs, no refunds are given for missed practices. Team gymnasts may attend alternative classes as make-ups for missed practices; discuss these possibilities with your coach as the need arises. The increase in tuition compared to last year is due to our underestimations last year of the costs of meet entry fees and competition attire; we have not changed the portion of your tuition that is for training even though our labor, rent, and utilities costs have increased significantly.

To use this chart, identify the column that represents the month the gymnast is joining team. Identify the row that represents the team group the gymnast is joining. The cell at the intersection of the identified row and column contains the monthly tuition figure that gymnast will pay from his or her starting date through May 2008. For example, if a level 2 girl joins team July 1, her family will pay $160 per month every month from July 2007 through May 2008. If a level 4 girl joins team November 1, her family will pay $316 per month every month from November 2007 through May 2008. If a level 4 boy joins team August 1, his family will pay $306 each month from August 2007 through May 2008. A gymnast who is continuing from the 2006-7 season is considered to have started the 2007-8 season in June 2007.

Attire and meet fees built into the above payment schedule are non-refundable.

Beginning June 1, 2008 new monthly tuition will be calculated that will reflect the 2008-2009 competition attire and meet fees.
